Lancaster Small Animal Hospital would like to welcome you and your special feathered friend! In order to provide your bird with the best service available, the Lancaster Small Animal Hospital has instituted this AVIAN Program of procedures and treatments we recommend for birds.

Birds make wonderful pets and are fun additions to any family. However their anatomy and physiology make them unique in many ways. The average bird does not display the signs of illness until very late in the course of their disease. Prior to their domestication this was necessary to avoid being singled out as prey by other animals. Unfortunately, this makes their medical and surgical care a special challenge. For this reason it is important to have your pet examined by a veterinarian AT LEAST once a year. Additionally because illness is often masked in these species, routine laboratory tests are highly recommended on an annual basis. Routine screening provides especially useful information when first obtaining your pet from a breeder or pet store.
